Recent caselaw

Cancellation 3000217 of 13 January 2022
(Kamer van Koophandel / UBO)

Word mark UBO

'The claimant argues that the designation UBO stands for 'ultimate beneficial owner'. Irrespective of the fact that the claimant has provided sufficient evidence of the aforementioned meaning, it should be noted that the defendant does not dispute the fact that UBO stands for 'ultimate beneficial owner', so that this has to be regarded as an established fact between the parties and the Office must take it as a starting point'

Recent caselaw

Cancellation 3000257 of 8 April 2022
(Van Haren / Airwair)

Position mark

The trade mark consists of the combination of a black welt (Pantone 19-3909 TCX) that runs along the perimeter of a boot's outsole and a yellow stitch (Pantone 3965 XGC) applied to the welt in the manner as shown.

The matter shown in dotted lines, being the outline of the boot's upper and outsole, are not part of the trade mark but serve to show the positioning of the trade mark
